A life insurance case has just gone through the Kansas courts for the sixth time. The amount involved was $10,000. The insurance company claimed that a trick had been played and the wrong corpse palmed off as the insured chap. So far it has spent $100,000 in litigation, and the end hasn't been reached yet.

Miss Burns, of Topeka, Kansas, is so anxious for the return of a $2,500 broach which is now out somewhere on the Kansas prairie, that she offers $500 reward to the person who captures it. At last accounts it was accompanying a toy balloon to which she attached it to amuse a child, while riding on a train which was bowling along at the rate of forty miles an hour. A whiff of wind sent the balloon through an open window, and that's all Miss Burns knows about it.

The church was lavishly decorated with crysanthemums and other flowers, creating a scene of rare splendor and brilliancy and felicitious in augury of happiness for the bride and groom.

The bridal party was ushered into the church to the inspiring strains of wedding marches beautifully rendered by Miss Georgia Worth, organist, and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. John Ledbetter. Mr. Selden Jones, of Wilmington, a brother of the groom, was best man and Miss Bert Watson, of Fayetteville, was maid of honor with Miss Florence Jones, of Jonesboro, Miss Bessie McNeill, Miss Lizzie Brady, and Miss Marion Mallett, of Fayetteville, as bridesmaids. The groomsmen were Mr. H. Lacy Hunt and Mr. E. C. Cohen, of Wilmington, Mr. C. P. Wells, of Atlanta and Mr. T. C. Daniels, of Newbern. Messrs. Walter S. RECEPTION TO NEW PASTOR.

Rev. R. H. Herring Warmly Welcomed to Southside Baptist Church Pastorate by Congregation Last Night.

Rev. R. H. Herring, the new pastor of the Southside Baptist Church who arrived in the city Tuesday night from his former home at Enfield, N. C., was formally welcomed by his congregation last evening at their handsome new house of worship, recently constructed at the corner of Fifth and Wooster streets. The service was especially felicitous in its nature and there was a good attendance of church members and those who are accustomed to attend at South side, all of whom were enthusiastic in their welcome to Rev. Mr. Herring.

The service was opened with hymn by the choir and a very fervent prayer was offered by Rev. J. J. Payseur, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist Church. The scriptural lesson was read by Rev. Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the new pastor was introduced to the congregation by Mr. R. W. Haywood in well chosen and felicitous terms.

On behalf of the Baptist denomination and the city at large Mr. Herring was then welcomed by Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, and a welcome to Southside Church individually was extended to him by Rev. W. L. Tart, who has been supplying the church since Mr. Farrington's resignation took effect several months ago. Both speeches were abounding in words of hospitality and sincere wishes for a long and successful pastorate. Mr. J. S. Canady, the superintendent, next welcomed the new pastor to the Sunday school, and Rev. J. H. Hildreth spoke very forcibly to the congregation relative to the duties of church members to the pastor.

Rev. P. C. Morton next spoke very warm words of welcome to Mr. Herring as a co-worker in the Christian field at large in Wilmington, and his address was followed by remarks from Rev. Mr. Payseur.

Mr. Herring responded in a pleasing manner to the many words of encouragement and welcome addressed to him by the brethren present.

A hymn was then sung and the benediction pronounced, after which members of the church crowded the chancel extending to Mr. Herring the right hand of fellowship.

A pleasant feature of the evening's exercises was the reading of a telegram dated Birmingham, Ala., from Rev. F. H. Farrington, former pastor of the church. The telegram was addressed to Mr. Herring, and read as follows: "I, too, hail and welcome thee. Read Phil., fourth chapter, and verses 1-8; First Timothy, third chapter and fourteenth verse, with the first five words of the fifteenth verse; also, sixth chapter and twelfth verse."

THANKSGIVING GAME

Horner and Wilmington Teams Will Meet On Gridiron This Afternoon.

HIGH SCHOOL--FAYETTEVILLE

Will Leave This Morning to Play Juniors. Game Will be Called at Hilton at 3 O'clock Sharp—The Personnel of Both Elevens.

Admirers of the sport in Wilmington will have their proudest hopes realized this afternoon when the O. A. N. football team of Wilmington will line up for a contest royal with the eleven of Horner's School, which arrived last evening according to the provisions of the arrangement for a game, which has been practically assured for several weeks.

Both teams have gotten together the very best football material obtainable in their several spheres and with favorable weather conditions the odds are even as to which aggregation of pig-skin chasers will carry off the honors. Both managers last night spoke confidently of the prospects for success, and now everything is in readiness to determine by dint of muscle and sinew, who is to win out in the annual Thanksgiving game, which is an established factor in local athletic circles.

Manager Edwin A. Metts has personally supervised the preparations of the grounds and the buildings. Chief Parmele has promised a cordon of police to keep back the crowds from over the lines, and there is nothing to mar the pleasure incident to witnessing a game of foot ball attended by all the snap and vim characteristic of the fastest of State teams.

The following is the line-up of the team as furnished by the managers of the elevens last night:

Two horse teams will be admitted to grounds for twenty-five cents extra and one-horse vehicles for fifteen cents.

About twenty-five rooters accompanied the Horner team and will make a strong "pull" for the visitors this afternoon. Wilmington's contingent of this variety of sports will not be conspicuous for their absence.

Yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from Fifth Street Methodist Church the funeral of Miss Leo B. Cameron, who died suddenly Tuesday afternoon, was held, Rev. Jno. H. Hall, the pastor, officiating, in a solemn and very impressive manner. There was a large gathering of school children, teachers in the city schools and a host of friends present to pay the last mark of respect to the deceased lady, and many expressions of regret and sympathy, incited by the sad and untimely death were heard. The interment was at Bellevue cemetery, the pall-bearers being Messrs. James Burriss, Benj. McClammy, F. A. Montgomery, R. H. Northrop, Col. Walker Taylor and Prof. John J. Blair. RIVER AND HARBOR WORK.

The General Wright Returns From An Inspection Trip to Fayetteville.

Capt. E. W. VanC. Lucas, chief of the engineer corps engaged in the river and harbor improvement, returned yesterday from Fayetteville on the government stump puller General Wright. He went to Fayetteville by rail, and accompanied by Mr. Charles Schuster, of the engineer corps, who is in charge of the work between Wilmington and Fayetteville, came down the river on his regular inspection tour.

The General Wright did some snagging in the river on her trip up to Fayetteville. She will now resume work in Town Creek and about the middle of January will finish that work and will then go to work removing logs and snags in the river between here and Fayetteville. In a couple of weeks the dredge Ajax will dredge out the bar and mouth of Town Creek.

Accident to Steamer Richmond.

Mr. H. G. Smallbones, superintendent of the Clyde Steamship Company here, received a telegram from Norfolk last night stating that the steamer Richmond, which left New York for Wilmington last Saturday, broke her propeller at sea and was towed into Norfolk.

The Richmond had on board a full cargo of merchandise for Wilmington merchants, and the dispatch states that the goods were transferred to the steamer Saginaw, which vessel will bring the cargo on to Wilmington. She will probably be here to day or to-morrow.

The Richmond was towed back to New York by the Old Dominion line.

Sports To-day.

Among the sports to day will be a cocking main between New Hanover and Alamance counties. It will take place at the club grounds of the New Hanover Live Stock and Poultry Association, in East Wilmington. The main will begin this morning at 9 o'clock.

BARIUM ROCK SPRING WATER,

(Old Poison Spring), is nature's specific for every form of skin disease and blood poison. It does not, like soap and ointment, merely destroy for a time the external signs, but goes to the root of the evil and drives out the poison in the blood which causes the eruptions to appear.

METHODIST PARSONAGE,
ROCKINGHAM, N. C., Oct. 14, 1898.
I can bear testimony to the great value of Barium Rock Spring Water for Eczema and other eruptive diseases of the skin. I have known MANY CASES CURED, some of them of the most stubborn character.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 30.

OUR IRON AND STEEL TRADE.

This country is rapidly becoming the greatest iron and steel manufacturer in the world, and also the greatest producer of iron. This year the production of pig iron will reach 13,500,000 tons, and the production of steel 10,000,000 tons. Ten years ago we imported $71,000,000 worth of iron and steel manufactures and exported $14,000,000 worth. This year we imported $12,000,000 worth, and the exports will reach $100,000,000, and this in the face of the fact that pig iron has increased in price from $11 to $24 a ton. The demand is so great that every furnace in the country is kept busy, and some of the Southern furnaces ship iron before it is cool.

A remarkable thing about this is that while the activity in this country is phenomenal, there is extraordinary activity also in other iron and steel producing countries, whose manufacturers compete with ours, and yet, notwithstanding this competition, our exports continue to increase with a steady and a most gratifying rate. A noticeable feature of these exports is that they cover the field and embrace about all the leading articles in general use, as will be seen by the following exhibit by the Treasury Bureau of statistics showing the value of the principal articles of iron and steel and manufactures thereof exported during the ten months ending October 31st, 1899, as compared with the exports of the corresponding period in 1898:

	1898.	1899.
Machinery	$12,797,211	$15,293,015
Builders' hardware	5 731,224	7,306,721
Metal-working machinery	4 7?2,488	5,522,854
Pipes and fittings	3,636,047	5 486,338
Wire	3,447 303	4,135,077
Locomotive engines	4 6?3,849	4,272,850
Sewing machines	3,640 196	3 261,399
Pig iron	2,063,046	2,890,439
Pumps and pumping machinery	1,809,167	2.466,014
Electrical machinery	1,981,474	2,434,510
Typewriters	1,714 325	2,318,011
Structural iron	1,112 778	1,770 617
Steel sheets and plates	624,727	1,609,873
Engines, other than locomotives	1,338 370	1,537,756
Wire nails	462 838	1,181,322
Steel bars or rods	511,164	858,145
Printing presses	662,491	788,087
Cut nails	497 ?43	383,822
Bar iron	192 913	363 78
Iron sheets and plates	144,301	3c0,989
Total	$87,290,560	$86,162 258

This is an average of something over $8,500,000 a month and would give for the year an aggregate of over $100,000,000; a colossal difference from the $14,000,000 worth exported ten years ago.

Another gratifying feature of these exports is that they cover so many departments of the iron industry, showing progress in all and the ability of American enterprise to compete in all. Another gratifying feature is that in extending this trade we have succeeded in competition with countries which controlled the iron markets of the world when we made none for export, and had to import most of what we used. England controlled the iron markets because she had the iron mines and her iron and steel makers were masters of the business. Germany had an abundance of iron ore and she, too, became a great iron and steel maker. Against these and others American enterprise, genius and skill had to compete.

To make a large exhibit of cotton exports or of foodstuffs is nothing remarkable, for the world depends in a great measure upon this country for its cotton and its foodstuffs. It is simply our good fortune that we are in a position to supply these and that no other nation can take our place, at the present at least, in supplying these. But these require no extraordinary amount of enterprise or genius, for the soil produces both. They are harvested and the only manipulation they experience is the putting in form to ship to market. If we shipped crude iron the only achievement then would be that we supplied something which we could afford to ship to countries which could not produce it as cheaply and there would be nothing in that to entitle us to special congratulation, but when it comes to shipping manufactures which require a high order of training and skill, that is another matter, for it shows that in constructive progress this country stands at the front and leads other nations which not many years ago could pose as teachers in the iron and steel making industries.

As it is the most universally used, iron is the royal metal, a source of more wealth and power to a nation than all the other metals combined, for it furnishes the base of numerous industries that would be impossible or at least insignificent without it. It is the metal that turns the furrow for the farmer, and makes possible the locomotive that draws the train and the great steel steamer that ploughs the deep. The nation which supplies the world with the iron and steel manufactures it needs will be the nation that will control the markets of the world, gather wealth and become great.

If within ten years our exports of iron and steel manufactures have increased over sevenfold, what may not the next ten years show when we have learned the needs of the world more thoroughly and are better equipped with transportation facilities of our own to reach the world's markets? Want of these has been one of the obstacles against which we have had to contend in competing with foreign rivals, for we have had to ship mainly in their ships and in reaching the oriental markets we have to pass through their canals or circumnavigate a continent. The ascendency which we secure in the iron and steel industries we will hold, for the same attributes—enterprise, genius and skill—that put us at the front, will keep us there and put us still further to the front, and the South will be no small factor in this contest for the world's supremacy in this greatest of manufacturing industries.

IF GOOD IN CUBA WHY NOT HERE?

In the scheme of reconstruction in the South the Republican statesmen, who concluded they might have need of negro votes, made the emancipated slaves voters without any qualifying conditions, and there and then they started the so-called race conflict. In the scheme of reconstruction for Cuba they do not propose to do that, but to eliminate the negro as far as possible from the control of public affairs. This meets the approval of Republican organs, some of which harshly criticise proposed franchise qualifications in the South. One of these, the New York Commercial-Advertiser, commenting upon the plan proposed in Cuba, thus discourses:

"Secretary Root recommends the immediate appointment of civil governors in Cuba and the granting of suffrage to Cubans on an educational and property qualification. When this is done it will give an opportunity among other things, to test the wise predictions of Booker T. Washington that the negro can find sure relief from many of his troubles by associating himself more closely with the interests of the community in which he dwells—to grow up with the country, no longer to be its childish member. The negro has been a child long enough, not held responsible for many childish acts, though cruelly punished for crimes that the mixture of mature passions with childish lack of self-control exposed him to.

"Instead of emigrating, of further disassociating himself from his present surroundings, the negro should feel—and thus make his white neighbor feel—that he has the welfare of the community as much at heart as any one. In Cuba, says Mr. Washington, the negro has thus associated himself with his country's welfare, and there the negro question is settling itself.

"It will be interesting to see if, with the fairer start negroes have in Cuba and with the wise restrictions put upon the ballot, the negro question will, indeed, thus settle itself. If it does, it will be a most hopeful augury of the ultimate settlement of the question in our own Southern States. It will be a strong argument for the establishment of more of the manual training schools for negroes which have already done so much good.

"Mr. Washington shows his wisdom most signally by addressing himself primarily to his own race, not to the white man. Wealth brings a sense of responsibility only when hard earned, and the regeneration of the race must come from within. This impulse from within starts under fairer conditions in Cuba, where there is less antipathy between the Latin whites and the blacks, than with us, whether from a smaller distance separating the mentalities of the two races or from the less sympathetic nature of the Anglo-Saxon toward an inferior race."

This, overlooking the palliation for the crimes for which negroes are sometimes "cruelly punished," is in the main correct, but it may be asked if qualified suffrage, the purpose of which evidently is to keep the government out of the hands of the negroes, be the good and proper thing for Cuba, why is it not the good and proper thing for the South? And why do the organs which commend the proposition for Cuba condemn the white people of the South who advocate it?

Ernest Bauer, of Kansas, tried an experiment and as a result is very mad and out 762 chickens out of a flock of 800. He saw something in a rural paper about chicken meat being preserved with boracic acid, and came to the conclusion the right thing to do was to mix the acid with the chicken's feed. A lot of dead chickens was the result, and then he sued the paper for damages. But the court decided that papers were not responsible for the deficiency of brains possessed by experimenters.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5.00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles 10c at R. R. BELLAMY'S Drug Store. †

TO TEST IT.

From time to time we have had reports of movements to test the constitutionality of the law taxing the issues of State banks. The latest is the movement in Richmond, reported in the dispatches published yesterday, which seems to have something behind it, as it is reported that eminent counsel has been retained to argue the case before the U. S. Supreme Court.

The opinion has long been held by good lawyers that this act is invalid as discriminating against State banks, and as something not intended to be perpetuated when the act was passed. If the Supreme Court sustains this contention, the Gordian knot will be cut, and a long stride will be taken in the way of currency reform, concerning which so much has been said and in which the people of the whole country, but especially of the South and West are so much interested.

This is about the only hope for State banks, for it will be a very difficult if not an impossible thing to secure any action from Congress now or in the near future in favor of State banks, the idea being to nationalize the currency and keep State banks in the back ground. Under the present system the big banks in the money centers practically control the volume of the currency and they will stubbornly oppose any movement which will have a tendency to break their grip on that. If this Richmond movement succeeds, as we trust it will, that grip will be broken.

PROGRESS IN MARINE ARCHITECTURE.

Big and fast ships are so much the order of the day now that they attract but little attention, and no surprise is expressed when mention is made of contemplated vessels much larger than we have now. In the building of ships wonderful progress has been made within the past half century, how much is told in the following brief extract, which we clip from an editorial in the Baltimore Herald:

"An interesting report which sets forth impressively the increase in the size of vessels has been compiled by Frank D Hill, our Consul at Amsterdam. From this document which contains the figures given in the course of an address by Sir William White before the British Association, it appears that in 1840 the crack steamer of the Cunard Line was only 207 feet long, and could make on an average 8½ knots an hour with engines of 750 horse-power and a coal consumption of forty tons a day. Since then the speed has been increased to 22½ knots, reducing the time of voyage 38 per cent., while the length of ships has more than trebled, and their engine-power is forty times as great. The ratio of horse power to weight carried has quadrupled, with proportionately one-third the coal consumption.

"The White Star Liner Oceanic of 1871 was 420 feet long, of 7,200 tons displacement, and capable of running 14½ knots an hour. Eighteen years later the extreme was represented by the Teutonic, 565 feet in length and of 16,000 tons displacement. During the past decade the length has been increased to 625 feet, and a vessel now under construction will bring it up to 660 feet, with a displacement of 23,000 tons, 33,000 horse power, and an estimated speed of 23½ knots.

"In Sir William White's opinion, the maximum has not yet been reached. When we reflect that the depth of channels, the length of wharves and the freight movement were conditions prerequisite to the construction of such leviathans, we obtain some adequate idea of what the increase in the size of ships really means."

The Philadelphia Press, which is owned by Postmaster-General Smith, has been making it so hot for Senator Quay that he has got hot under the collar and reciprocates by demanding of President McKinley that he bounce Mr. Smith under peril of incurring Quay's enmity and the loss of Pennsylvania's vote in the next convention. This is probably Quay's game to silence Smith's battery.

—— An Indiana woman told a jury that when a mob lynched her husband she sustained no damage, and the deceased's father was allowed but $5 for the injury inflicted in his direction. This particular mob surely picked out a bargain counter victim.—Washington Post, Ind.

—— "The conversion of McKinley," to religion, of course, is very prettily told by a reminiscent preacher in a story from Cleveland, Ohio, to-day. But, all things considered, it is not nearly as wonderful as the conversion of McKinley from the silver to the gold standard.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—— Of course, all of those stories about Bryan's receiving big pay for political and campaigning speeches were naught but sheer lies. SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Goldsboro Argus: The death of Mr. Billy Thompson, brother of the late Haynes Thompson and father of Mr. W. R. Thompson, occurred Monday, afternoon at the home of his son.

— Statesville Mascot: Monday afternoon a hawk pursued an English sparrow down Broad street. Both birds struck against one of the large plate glass windows in the front of J. K. Morrison & Sons' store, fell to the ground and were captured.

— Henderson Gold Leaf: An albino or white partridge is a rare occurrence, but Mr. Thos. H. Crudup shot one while out hunting near Kittrell Tuesday. The bird was perfectly white except the head. Mr. Crudup sent it to the State Museum and under Curator Brimley's scientific touch it will be a beautiful and rare specimen when mounted.

— Tarboro Southerner: James M. Pittman, colored, postmaster at Tillery, has been lodged in jail at Wilson, in default of bail, for making false returns of cancellation of postage. The postoffice officials say that quite a number of fourth class postmasters make false returns thinking that they cannot be detected. The government is now after them with a "sharp stick."

— Newton Enterprise: Farmers who have been here this week say there is a good deal of wheat dying. Some think the late sowing this year will be better than the early, but others say they never saw wheat look better than it does this year.—— It requires from 75 to 100 horses a day to accomodate the field trial people. The livery stables, hotels and butcher shops all feel the effect of the field trials on their business. Mr. James Allen has sold about $100 worth of beef for dog food.

—Greensboro Record: Monday two negroes approached a house on Morehead avenue and asked the lady is she did not want a well dug. As a matter of fact they had seen her sending over to a neighbor's for water. She told them she did not know; that her husband was at work down town and as she going down in the afternoon she would see him and let them know when she returned about four or five o'clock. When she got back the applicants for the job were not on hand, but they had been there and stolen all the money she had in the house and also a gold ring. It was a well arranged plot. They were not well diggers, but used this as a pretext for talking to her and then learning she was going down town they watched and when she disappeared the simply broke open a rear window and walked in.

FARM HOGS.

How This Class of Stock May Be Easily Improved.

This class of stock can be improved more rapidly than any other on the farm, says J. W. Jamison of Ohio in The National Stockman. Three steps are necessary to accomplish this most rapidly. These are selection, feeding and purchase. Every farm herd can be improved in part or in all of these ways.

Purchase alone amounts to little without the others. Nor can selection and feed do it all. Where the custom is to feed corn almost exclusively as the grain ration the hogs are sure in time to lack in bone. Their bones gradually become smaller with each succeeding generation. Selection cannot wholly overcome this. Some farmers try to overcome it by purchase, but this is not wholly satisfactory and fails to a great extent. We have long since found that the best way to secure an abundance of bone is to grow it. There are good reasons for this—the animals are more thrifty; again, we cannot get satisfactory weights without plenty of bone.

In the matter of selection, the best should be retained. The best in this case means those showing the greatest thrift and that have made the most rapid growth. Rapid growth is the most important characteristic to establish in a herd, and this cannot be done by selling those growing fastest and retaining the slow growers.

When the farmer has good stock to start with, it is only necessary to buy males to introduce new blood. The sow can always be selected on the farm. In fact, this is a better place to do it than on some other man's farm. In our own case we would not expect to purchase a class of sows as satisfactory as what we now have, that we have worked years to develop.

We are not in favor of the practice of cleaning up the farm of all home grown stock every few years and purchasing entirely new. This is not the most satisfactory way to secure improvement. However, it may be the best practice for some men that make a practice of letting their hog stock "run out," as it is termed. "Run out" is the result of bad feeding, selection and too close breeding. The "running out" system of management is not profitable. The building up of a herd should yield an increasing profit. The cost of males to improve a farm herd should not deter the farmer from making the purchase.

A Long Maned Horse Wonder.

The long maned horse Linus II, owned by J. K. Rutherford, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., is a golden chestnut, with mane and tail nearly white. The mane is double and reaches down and out on the ground about four feet on both sides. The tail reaches out on the ground about ten feet. Horse stands about 16 hands and weighs 1,300 pounds. Ordinarily his hair is kept braided and looped up with bags made to fit the loops drawn over them and fastened so his hair does not interfere with his movements. He is of beautiful form, high spirited, but kind and affectionate. He becomes very much attached to his groom and those who attend him.

LINUS II.

Raising Hares.

A new industry has just been established in Indiana by Nathan Meyer, a prominent manufacturer, and his associates. The concern is regularly incorporated under the title of the Wabash Belgian Hare Breeding and Importing company. The company will undertake to import large numbers of the animals from Europe and will propagate them on an 80 acre farm leased for the express purpose. A 10 acre tract has been set apart for the breeding grounds and range, and a well built rabbit house, 16 by 200 feet, has been erected to shelter the hares in bad weather. The 10 acres are surrounded by a high and closely woven wire fence, and as the business grows the rang will be enlarged. Already 300 fine hares have been placed on the farm, and Herman Wolf, an agent, is now in Europe purchasing more, which will be shipped over this fall. Mr. Meyer says that when the company gets under way it will raise 1,000,000 hares a year, the market for the same being found here, where the fine fur is used in making crush hats. The hair suitable for these hats is high priced and difficult to obtain. The promoters expect to derive great profit from the industry.

Testing Texas Steers.

After all, from a beef standpoint, the true test of value of any breed of cattle is what will they do when prepared for the block. Realizing this fact, the San Antonio International Fair association has offered a large prize for the best carload of fed Texas steers to be shown at the fair, the first prize being $250 and the second $150. These premiums are large enough to induce many Texas feeders to make a show at the fair, and there will doubtless be several carloads of choice fed cattle on exhibition.—Texas Stockman.

New York to Boston by Trolley.

There is an almost complete trolley connection between the city of New York and the city of Boston," says a writer in Ainslee's Magazine for August. "The trip can be made in 30 hours of constant riding. The lines of the various companies which make up the continuous journey meet end to end and car to car. There are no delays to speak of, for the cars of the various companies run every 15, 20 or 30 minutes. Fifty-four payments of five cents each will carry the passenger over the entire connected trolley service. This must be augmented by $1.16 in railroad fares, unless the shorter gaps in the trip are traversed on foot. Lastly, there are country hotels in the small towns which provide a lodging for a night at such reasonable rates that the journey can be made leisurely and yet inexpensively, and the total outlay remains within the limit of a first class passage by train to Boston."

Satisfactory Explanation.

Jim Frye of Hustonville tells this of Jim Coulter of Middleburg: One day when Mr. Coulter was at Liberty a very young man with a very bald head came into the hotel. He was a stranger, and Mr. Coulter, by way of commencing a conversation, said to him:

"My friend, I am not asking to guy you, but I would like to know how it comes that so young a man is so bald."

"It was in this way," he replied. "When my time to get hair came, they said there was none left but red, so I told them I didn't believe I cared for any."

As Coulter has a very red head, he was satisfied to let the conversation drop.—Stanford Interior Journal.

THE LEARNED WAITRESS.

[A number of women schoolteachers have engaged as waitresses at the summer resorts.—Daily Paper.]

She must rank high in classic lore,
I know e'en waiting's Greek to her;
Contemptuously she scans me o'er
As daring me to speak to her,
Then sniffeth she with great disdain
And falls into a reverie,
Until a howl of hungry pain
Awakes her from her lethargy.

The boarder withereth 'neath the glare
That glows behind her shining glasses,
And, trembling, asks the bill of fare,
Which, having pondered on, she passes;
This having duly studied out,
He turns to where his Ganymede is,
Feeling it sacrilege to shout
To such a person what his feed is.

But he's too late; she's off again,
Wandering in learning's mystic mazes,
Her eyes fixed on the window pane,
Through which persistently she gazes,
Till wrought at last to dire despair
The hungry man howls out his order!
Then soupward with offended air
Sweepeth majestically his warder.

He muncheth bread. The moments pass,
Anon essayeth he a pickle;
Of wine he swiggeth many a glass,
Yet lingers still that waitress fickle.
She comes at last with look of pain,
Bearing a tart as a beginner,
And all his arguments are vain
To prove he has not had his dinner.

Shapely Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is very destructive to the mother's shapeliness. This can be need, however, by the use of MOTHER'S FRIEND before baby comes, as this scientific liniment prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of form. MOTHER'S FRIEND also obviates the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing, and thousands gratefully tell of the great good it has done them. Sold by all druggists at $1 00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this great remedy, will be sent free to any address by THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR COMPANY, Atlanta, Georgia.

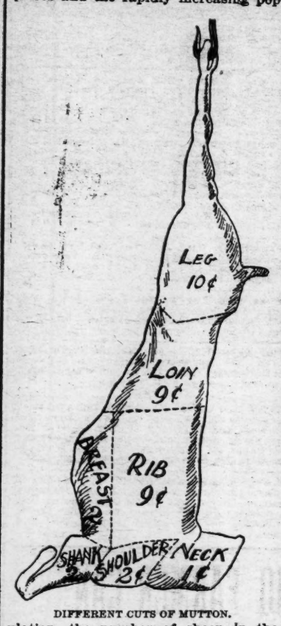
Well, 5 Cents Is a Car Fare.

The unknown writer is not the only one who has a right to complain of the financial sorrows of literature. An experienced literary man of our acquaintance received recently from his publishers a solemn check for 5 cents, the same being "the amount due for royalty on sales to July 1." The philanthropic firm inclosed a stamped envelope for the receipt.—Literary World.

CUTS OF MUTTON

Character and Cost of the Different Parts of a Sheep.

The mutton sheep has been slow in invading America, says the New York Press. Here, as in Europe, the wool producing Merino held almost undisputed sway for many years. These conditions, however, are changing rapidly. Perhaps the recent depression in the price of wool is largely accountable for the readjustment and changed condition. At any rate, there is a constantly increasing demand for good mutton in the United States. The Chicago market alone in 1894 took nearly a million more mutton sheep than during any previous year, and the receipts during 1898 were the largest on record. Notwithstanding the impetus of increased demand and good prices and the rapidly increasing population, the number of sheep in the United States is considerably lower than in former years. The average of the number on hand each year, Jan. 1, from 1891 to 1895 inclusive, was 44,448,885, and the average of the number on hand Jan. 1, from 1896 to 1899 inclusive, was 37,972,212. During the former period two Canadian provinces, Quebec and Ontario, sent to our markets 1,524,046 head of sheep, valued at nearly $5,000,000. This importation of mutton sheep from Canada still continues, notwithstanding the fact that a heavy duty is imposed and that Canadian mutton is also made on higher priced feeds and lands than prevail in our own country. During the last year the number of sheep imported at Buffalo alone was 175,697, valued at $574,882. We have also been importing $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 worth of wool annually during recent years.



DIFFERENT CUTS OF MUTTON.

The production of prime mutton for American and European markets is rapidly becoming a permanently established industry of vast proportions in the United States. Our rich lands and abundant feeds are well suited to the economical production of superior mutton, and it has been clearly demonstrated that mutton sheep properly selected can grow a large part, if not all, of the wool demanded for American manufacturing.

How the butchers cut the carcass of a sheep and how the housewife should order her mutton are matters of interest to every family in the land. The diagram shows the method of cutting a carcass, and the prices given for the several cuts are based upon the Chicago market for prime mutton.

These weights and values for the cuts are the averages made by seven special mutton breeds:

Leg, 22.2 pounds, at 10 cents	$2 22
Loin, 17.5 pounds, at 9 cents	1 57
Rib, 14.5 pounds, at 9 cents	1 30
Chuck (breast, shank, shoulder and neck), 19.8 pounds, at 1¾ cents	34
Total	$5 43

The leg, loin and rib are the high priced cuts that determine the value of a carcass of mutton. An animal that fails in one of these fails essentially to meet the requirements of the market for high priced mutton. This is particularly true of the leg cut, and plump, well filled legs are indispensable in prime lambs.

The illustration shows good front and back views of a carcass selected as a model at the Union stockyards, Chicago. It exhibits a remarkably well filled leg, back, rib and loin, the flesh being even and thick at all points, and on cutting it was found to be of superior quality throughout. This is the profitable type of carcass to the killer and consumer, as it contains the highest proportion of choice meat and the minimum of cheap product and offal. It was taken from a 95 pound Southdown.

A Profitable Hog.

The Columbia (Mo.) Statesman tells of a neighbor who has a Poland-China sow 4½ years old which in January found 18 living pigs and raised them all. On June 15 she found another litter of 15 and is raising them.

Oregon Mohair.

The Oregon Agriculturist estimates the output of Mohair in Oregon this year at 20,000 to 40,000 pounds in excess of last year's product and the quality good.

Cattle For Feeding.

Mr. McLain Smith believes that "the injury to the cattle interest in Ohio and adjoining states through the general use of Jersey bulls some 20 years ago, and since, is almost incalculable." He adds, "It is almost impossible now to buy a bunch of good feeding steers grown in Ohio." I do not doubt that the Jerseys and Guernseys are without rivals in limited sections of our state, but the general introduction of Jersey blood into the three-fourth of our state that is not devoted to dairying to any considerable degree has worked injury to Ohio farming. As Mr. Smith says, there are few home grown steers for feeding. The small feeder is the one most hurt. Formerly he could pick up a few calves right at home, and the coarse feed and some grain of the farm were converted into beef. Now they are sold off the farm because he cannot get a half dozen or more good feeders without going to a city market for them. While I haven't a stock farm, I formerly bought a dozen or more steers for winter stall feeding in order that the extra feeding stuff might be fed on the farm, but quit the business because one could not get a dozen good feeders together without paying a price for culling out what was wanted that knocked out all the profit. There are many farms that should have a few calves for grazing and a few steers for stall feeding, so that all fodder, roots and cheap grain could be utilized and the supply of manure increased, but the Jersey has made this impossible.

The Morning Star.
WILMINGTON, N. C.
THURSDAY MORNING, Nov. 30.

DEWEY AND M'KINLEY WILL PAY EXPENSES.

To Enable a Son of the Late Capt. Gridley to Secure An Appointment As Lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 29.—J. P. V. Gridley, a son of the late Captain Charles V. Gridley, who commanded Admiral Dewey's flagship at the battle of Manila, was to-day designated for appointment as a lieutenant in the marine corps by President McKinley. Young Gridley is too old to enter Annapolis and the only opening for him in the navy lay in an appointment to the marine corps, but he lacked the necessary education, and worse than all the money to study. The boy was too modest to tell any one the situation, but Admiral Dewey, who loved his father, suspected it and decided to act. He determined to pay the boy's expenses while studying for the lieutenancy.

This morning he met young Gridley at the White House and presented him to the President. Admiral Dewey started to explain the situation when the President interrupted and said: "You and I, Admiral, will pay his expenses in preparing for examination. If he fails in the first examination I will give him another chance; but I am sure he will be ready when the time comes."

As Admiral Dewey and the young man were descending the White House steps, the admiral was saying to the son of his old comrade: "Now you keep an account of your expenses and let me know what they are."

At the foot of the steps the admiral ran into the group of newspaper men. "I shall be glad to give you an item this morning," said the admiral. "The President has just agreed to designate this young man, a son of Captain Gridley, for examination for a lieutenancy in the marine corps. But he has no money with which to prepare himself for the examination," he continued. "However, the President and I are going to attend to that," he added, looking at the son of his old friend with a suspicious moisture in his eyes. "Now," said the admiral as he turned away, "let the people of the country know what sort of President they have."

Mr. Gridley's mother, the widow of the gallant commander of the Olympia, is living at Erie, Pa. She is drawing a pension of $30 a month, which her friends in Congress will seek to have increased by special act during the approaching session.

S. A. L.'S NEW ROAD.

Company Organized in Charleston, S. C. Officers Elected — Arrangements for Terminal Facilities.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., November 29.—The Chattanooga, Augusta & Charleston Railway Company, the new road which the Seaboard Air Line proposes to build between Charlesto and Atlanta, and surveys for which have already been made, was organized here to-day, the following officers being elected: President, E. R. Williams, of Richmond; Vice President, T. U. Jackson, of Augusta; Secretary, Henry Buist, of Charleston; Treasurer, R. Goodwin Rhett, of Charleston. Board of Directors—J. G. Williams, Jr., C. Wulbern, R. Goodwyn Rhett, S. H Wilson, W. B. Chisholm and W. M. Wallace, all of Charleston; Charles S. Heard, of Augusta; J. U. Jackson, of Augusta; E. R. Williams, of Richmond; J. W. Travis, of Richmond and W. B. S. Whaley, of Columbia.

J. Skelton Williams, of the Seaboard Air Line, was in the city during the day but declined to be interviewed. The Seaboard Air Line closed by purchase to-day several options upon terminal properties in the city, and at a special meeting of the city council to be held in a day or two, rights of way will be asked for through certain streets. There seems no longer to be a reasonable doubt that the proposed road is to be built.

MANILA NEWS IS ENCOURAGING.

Regarded As Indicating the Practical Ending of Opposition in Luzon.

THE INSURGENTS ROUTED.

Aguinaldo Believed to be Hiding in Abra Province—Port of Vigan Captured by a Naval Force—Col. Bell's Fight in the Mountains.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, November 29.—A dispatch from the Associated Press correspondent at Namacpacan, Province of Union, dated Sunday, November 26th, says:

"The Oregon, Samara and Callao, with one hundred and sixty bluejackets and marines from the Oregon, captured the port of Vigan, Province of South Ilodos, north of here to-day. The Samara and Callao ran close in shore, a few shots were fired and then the Samara, Callao and Oregon engaged in a sharp bombardment of Vigan. The firing from the shore ceased almost immediately and the sailors and marines with a field piece, were landed.

"It is reported that 1,700 insurgents, under Generals Tino and Pilar, are massed at Tagudin, ten miles north, and it has been concluded to wait at Namacpacan for the rest of the reinforcements. The American military force was still at Namacpacan Sunday but a move north was expected to take place Monday. Two companies of the Twenty third volunteers are on their way north to reinforce the troops at Namacpacan. A later dispatch from Namacpacan says that when the bluejackets and marines landed at Vigan they found that the insurgents had fled.

The navy will hold the town until relieved by the troops, which are on their way north.

General Young, with three troops of the Third cavalry and a small detachment of Macabebes commanded by Lieutenants Hall, Quinlan and Blunt, arrived at Namacpacan from San Fernando de Union Thursday, November 23rd. There they received news of Aguinaldo, from which it appears that he passed north through Namacpacan, Tuesday, November 21st, while General Young was waiting at San Fernando, twenty miles south.

The rebel chief is now believed to be in hiding in Abra province.

When Aguinaldo passed through Namacpacan all his talk was in favor of continuing the war.

Colonel Bell's Fight.

The fight in which Colonel Bell defeated and scattered the rebel brigades of Generals Alejandrino and San Miguel, took place on the summit of the mountains west of Mangalaren, forming the divide between the Dagupan valley and the ocean. Colonel J. Franklin Bell's regiment, the Thirty-sixth infantry, and Fowler's company of the Twenty-third, left Mangalaren Monday morning and marched twenty-four hours with four hours rest, over bare and waterless regions, along narrow trails and through canons upon the divide, running into the rebel's advance guard who retreated to the main body before shooting. Colonel Bell, who was in advance with the scouts and one company, had the rebels in full rout before the main body of his troops arrived, fleeing down the mountain to the swamp between Managalaren and Aguinas, leaving ten dead and many wounded, and abandoning two Nordenfelts, one two inch Krupp, one Maxim and one Hotchkiss. They were chased through the swamps and thoroughly dispersed. Col. Bell captured all their artillery, supplies and clothing, many Mausers and Remingtons, some American Winchesters and a thousand rounds of ammunition. The rifles, etc., were abandoned in the rebels' retreat, and were scattered along their trail for two miles, the enemy escaping empty-handed, with the exception of a few rifles. The women and children in the shacks in the camp had no time to escape. Col. Ruscar, chief of the arsenal, and a few other prisoners were taken,

Encouraging Advices.

WASHINGTON, November 29.—The following cablegram was received at the Navy Department from Admiral Watson:

"Cavite, November 29.—Wilde reports the capture of Vigan on November 26th by the Oregon's landing force under Lieutenant Commander McCrackin, with Lieutenants McCormick, Bostwick, Johnston and Captain Williams and Lieutenant Bermeleye, marine corps.

"The landing was covered by the Callao, Tappan commanding, and the Samar, Mustin commanding. Slight resistance. No casualties. Inhabitants welcomed the flag. McCrackin is now holding Vigan until relieved by the army. Lieutenant Gilmore is well with seven men twenty-five miles from Vigan. Received Meyer code letter from Gilmore by Albert Socichsen, newspaper artist, who was with Gilmore seven months and escaped. Brought here by Samar. News from insurgents through a Spanish sergeant indicates that all the Urcaneta's crew were killed except the following: Farley, Green, Powers, Burke. Names of the Gilmore party: Walton, Vandoit, Ellsworth, Brisolese, Anderson, Edwards, Peterson. Some wounded were left at Baler. Gilmore has no news of them.

(Signed) "WATSON."

The above dispatch, taken in connection with the advices received today from General Otis describing the successes of the movements of the army under Young, encourages the naval officials in the belief that perhaps by this time the American prisoners referred to have already been released. With the naval contingent at Vigan, only twenty-five miles away to the west and the army advance probably a little further distant to the southeast, the town of Bagued is nearly surrounded and there is little chance of the escape of the insurgent force there if they attempt to encumber themselves in their retreat with the prisoners.

Altogether the news from both army and naval sources to-day is highly encouraging to the officials here, as indicating the practical end of the opposition of the insurgents in the north of Luzon. So far as known the only formidable force is that left in Cavite province under General Tryas and that operating in Panay.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES IN PHILADELPHIA.

Nearly Two Million Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed in the Business Section of the City.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—Nearly two million dollars worth of property was destroyed by two fires in the heart of the business section of the city early to-day. The greater of the two fires started in the big department store of Partridge & Richardson, at the southeast corner of Eighth and Filbert streets, the very centre of the shopping district, at 6.30 A. M., and before the flames had been put under control they spread to adjoining property and caused a loss of about $1,700,000. While this fire was in progress and spreading every moment, another fire broke out four blocks away on the fourth floor of No. 419 Market street. The loss at this fire is estimated at $110,000. The losses of the two fires are more than covered by insurance.

The Eighth street fire was a very ugly one for the firemen to handle. Eighth street and Filbert street are very narrow thoroughfares. There was a strong wind blowing at the time and the fire fighters had great difficulty in preventing the flames from getting a good hold on the buildings on the opposite side of these streets. As it was many of the structures and their contents were badly scorched and damaged by water. It took four hours to get the flames under control.

The fire started in the basement of Partridge and Richardson's store from an electric spark, and soon the entire building was a mass of flames. The two stores to the south of Partridge and Richardson's were soon gutted, and then the flames attacked the building of J. B. Lippincott Publishing Co. The building was completely ruined. In this building stored away in vaults is nearly a half million dollars worth of manuscripts, plates, and other material for reference books, and it is not yet known whether they were destroyed. Lit Brothers' large department store, which adjoins the Lippincott building, and which is valued with its contents at over one million dollars, was saved, but only after the contents of one corner of the building had been damaged. Strawbridge & Clothier, another large department store, also had a narrow escape and the building and contents were damaged to the extent of about $50,000.

A number of other business houses adjoining Lippincott's and Partridge & Richardson's were either entirely destroyed or partly damaged. All the losses are covered by insurance.

The second fire was discovered at 7.30 o'clock in a four-story building occupied by several manufacturing and wholesale dealers. The entire building was gutted, as was also the adjoining building. The estimated loss is $110,000.

Over two thousand persons are thrown out of employment by the fires, but proprietors of other department stores offer temporary employment to all the Partridge & Richardson's 900 employes at the salaries they received from the burned out firm.

Although the big fire raged for over four hours, there were no casualties beyond a few minor injuries received by a half dozen firemen.

TO BREAK PRICE OF COTTON.

An Alleged Conspiracy by Parties in New York City.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MEMPHIS, TENN., November 29.—The Commercial-Appeal to-morrow will say:

"A telegram worded as follows and signed by a New York individual has been received at this office: 'Reported in New York, cotton market heavily overbought by the South on slim margins and crash looked for. Can you confirm?'"

It has been learned that a similar telegram was sent to every important cotton centre in the South. It is thought that this is part of a conspiracy to break the price of cotton. The name of the sender of the telegram had been sent to a responsible New York member of the Cotton Exchange, with a request that an effort be made to uncover the whole transaction.

TRAINS IN COLLISION.

Six People Killed and Twenty Injured at Paterson, N. J.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 29.—The east bound Buffalo express, on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, while standing outside the station at the Vanwinkle street crossing, at Paterson, N. J., to-night, was run into by a swiftly moving accommodation train bound from Phillipsburg, N. J., to Jersey City. At least six people were killed, and there are now twenty injured at the hospital in Paterson, of whom some will probably die, while some of those not seriously injured were able to go to their destination.

The two rear cars of the express were broken to pieces, most of the passengers on them being either killed or injured. The engine of the Phillipsburg train was completely wrecked, the engineer and fireman escaping by jumping.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD DEAL

The Pennsylvania Secures Control of the Baltimore & Ohio.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Evening Post says: The following explanation was crrrent to-day on the authority of Wall street interests concerned in the recent heavy buying of Baltimore and Ohio stocks:

"A block of Baltimore and Ohio preferred and common has been purchased by A. J. Cassatt and associates in the interest of the Pennsylvania railroad.

"This stock, with the holdings of J. J. Hill, places the control of the Baltimore and Ohio in harmony with the management of the Pennsylvania. The New York Central is not concerned in the deal except through W. K. Vanderbilt, who as an individual, is one of the syndicate formed to acquire an important interest in Baltimore and Ohio stock."

METHUEN CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTORY

A Bloody Battle With the Boer Forces On the River Modder.

TEN HOURS HARD FIGHTING.

British Routed the Boers and Drove Them From Their Position—Situation at Ladysmith Unchanged — More Fighting at Kimberley.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, November 29.—The War Office has received the following dispatch from General Buller:

Cape Town, November 28.—General Methuen reports: Modder river, Tuesday, November 28th, reconnoitered at 5 A. M. the enemy's position on the river Modder and found them strongly entrenched and concealed. No means of outflanking, the river being full. The action commenced with artillery, mounted infantry and cavalry at 5.30, the Guards on the right and the Ninth brigade on the left. Attacked the position in widely extended formation at 6 30 and, supported by the artillery, found itself in front of the whole Boer force, 8,000 strong, with two large guns, four Krupps, etc. The Naval brigade rendered great assistance from the railway.

After desperate, hard fighting, which lasted ten hours, our men, without water or food and in the burning sun, made the enemy quit his position.

General Pole-Carew was successful in getting a small party across the river, gallantly assisted by three hundred sappers.

I speak in terms of high praise of the conduct of all who were engaged in one of the hardest and most trying fights in the annals of the British army. If I can mention one arm particularly, it is the two batteries of artillery.

The Bloodiest of the Century.

A special dispatch from Windsor says that General Methuen's dispatch to the Queen after the battle of Modder River says: "The battle was the bloodiest of the century. The British shelled the enemy out of the trenches and then charged. The result was terrible."

A revised list of the British casualties at Belmont shows: Officers killed, 4; wounded, 22; non-commissioned officers and privates killed, 46; wounded, 225; of which number the Guards had 35 killed and 159 wounded.

A revised list of casualties sustained by General Hilyard's forces at the battle of Beacon Hill shows: Killed 13; wounded 64; missing one; prisoners eight.

Situation at Ladysmith.

LADYSMITH, Nov. 20.—By messenger to Mooi river: All here are well and cheerful. The Boers are not shelling to-day and we have no fear that they will attack the town. Our position we have made very strong with redoubts and breastworks and we look forward confidently to the ultimate result.

Boer Advices From Kimberley.

PRETORIA, November 27.—General Dutort reports that the British made a sortie from Kimberley early Saturday morning and fired on the Boers with artillery and infantry in the darkness. The British sortied where the Bloemhof Boer force was stationed. On our (the Boer) side there were 300 men. General Dutort, who was nine miles off, hastened to the assistance of the Bloemhof contingent with 100 men. Nine burghers were killed, seventeen were wounded, and there were some missing. The British left on the field a private and a sergeant.

It is rumored that the British attempted to leave Kimberley on the east side to assist the troops from Belmont. Commandant Lubbe was slightly wounded.

The British have repaired the damage to the railroad.

The Free Staters engaged with the British were overwhelmed by numbers, and, after a brave stand in the afternoon, were compelled to take up another position on the other side of the railroad. Delary says it is impossible to give the number of killed and wounded Boers, but the loss is not great.

Canadian Contingent Arrives.

CAPE TOWN, November 29.—The Allan Line steamer Sardinian, Capt. Johstone, from Montreal October 26th and Quebec October 30th, having on board the Canadian contingent for South Africa, 1,000 strong, has arrived here.

LONDON, November 30.—The Standard publishes the following dispatch from Ladysmith, dated Tuesday, November 21st:

"Last Saturday I had a whole sackfull of my correspondence returned to me, showing the difficulty of communicating with the outside world.

"The Boers cannonade us almost daily, but there has been few casualties. Evidently the object of the enemy is now to exhaust the spirits of the British troops by incessant harrassing. The prospect of the British advance from the south has impelled them to redouble their efforts. They are mounting more guns and drawing the lines of investment closer."

SITUATION IN KENTUCKY.

Goebel Leaders Still Profess Confidence of a Decision in Their Favor.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FRANKFORT, KY., November 29.—The State election situation underwent no change here to-day. The Goebel leaders still profess entire confidence that he will be given a certificate of election by the State election board, but if they contemplate legal proceedings or have any other plan by which they expect to get around the face of the returns, they have not disclosed it.

The Republicans assert that the totals show a majority for Taylor, slightly increasing what has been claimed for him. Prominent Republicans who have been in Taylor's councils say the latter is preparing an inaugural address and will deliver it in the State house yard December 12th, whether he is given a certificate of election by the State board or not.

The body of a white man about 35 years old, was found near the crossing of the railroad tracks five miles west of Jacksonville, Fla. It was stripped of all clothing except shirt and hoes and was covered with blood. The head was crushed in and the ground around about was torn up as though a scuffle had occurred.

COUNTERFEITERS CAUGHT.

A Lot of Spurious Coin and a Set of Moulds Seized.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILLACOOCHEE, GA., November 29.—Deputy United States Marshal Cason, of Waycross, captured and brought to this place from Berrien county early this morning, a set of moulds for making silver coin, together with a lot of counterfeit coin. The moulds and money were found in a trunk in the possession of "Wade" Gaskins and Ben Corbitt, who were arrested, to be taken to Waycross on the evening train. Corbitt afterwards escaped. Some of the coin is so perfectly finished that it requires very close inspection to detect the difference between that and the genuine.

CONDITIONS IN CUBA.

Gen. Wood Says All Rumors of Impending Trouble Are Groundless.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 29.—Gen. Leonard Wood, who reached Washington last night, had a two hours' conference with the Secretary of War to-day. After the conference Secretary Root announced that his recommendations as to the removal of troops from Cuba had been approved and that orders would be issued putting them into effect.

Gen. Wood said that in his opinon all the rumors of impending trouble in Cuba were groundless, that there was no real prospect of a revolt, and that whatever friction and discontent did exist among the Cubans was due to the recent talk of a civil governor for the island.

The Five Senses:

The hearing ear ministers largely to the mental nature. Its chief charm is that it wafts upon the soul with "a sweet concord of sounds."
The sense of smell stands a step lower, and provided about equally, in ministering to the physical and æsthetic, in man.
The sense of feeling is still lower. The nerves of sensation are its fingers; through them it fulfilled its function of handling and fashioning the mere materials of civilization.
Taste is the humblest among the senses. Its ministrations are devoted, primarily, to the body. The fireman that feeds the engine of the physical system.
Vision is the noblest of our senses. It presides over the activities of the lower faculties and transcends them in the reach of its power.
Ret the most important of all senses is the most abused. The teeth, the nose, the ears, all receive due attention upon the slightest note of warning; while shooting pains and dull aches in and around the eyes—nature's warnings—are allowed to go unheeded, when perhaps perfectly fitted glasses would relieve present trouble and save future regret.
